Blockade is Probable in Shipments of Canadian Grain

Sir William Whitelock, who is in charge of the British consular office at Montreal, has been discussing the possibility of a blockade of the St. Lawrence river, which would prevent the export of Canadian grain to the United States.

But there was a danger of a blockade at Montreal. Cargo arrived fast but could not be accommodated, holding the vessels up at this point. Navigation from the St. Lawrence canal down, closed a month earlier than on the upper lakes, and here would be the main point of delay.

The coast lines of navigation permit American ships to take cargoes in Canadian ports, but not for delivery in Canadian ports. The port of Buffalo, N. Y., therefore, is receiving Canadian grain to pass onto American ports a month after the transit has closed down the St. Lawrence.

As to the prospect of a low price for wheat Sir William said the British millers were anxious. The western farmers, in need of money, were hurrying to get their crops on the way to the market.

Once the British miller observed an advance of the finest quality of mill-falls wheat, pouring in upon him he would take to cover and not come out until he could have the golden grain at his own price.

Mr. Whitelock was a guest of T. C. Irving, and reached the city yesterday fresh from a three weeks' survey of the grain prospects. Incidentally, he saw prospects for a much greater yield next year than this, having an extraordinary hard spring, as the ideal weather prevailing since June has permitted summer fallow and fall plowing, of which little was done in preparation for the winter.

There had been no special delivery to the small places.

He says "Europe has a whole lot to learn from America."

Aldermen Discuss Change in Management of Plant

Ald. Smith Doubts if One Man Can Handle Both Plants.

MECHANICS EASY TO GET; COMMERCIAL MEN SCARCE

Evidence Will Be Taken from Heads of Various Departments on the Subject Generally this Morning.

If the meeting held yesterday afternoon is to be taken as a criterion the suggested change in regard to the affairs of the power house will not be so easily consummated. The special committee named by the council consisted of Aldermen Smith, Livingstone and Calder, have diversified views on the recommendations brought in by the mayor whose idea is to follow out the suggestion of the Board of Commissioners and the council in number of reports. He told the committee that he never refused to give the special power board any information they asked for, but he did object when they put it up to him to get a man who could successfully handle both the distributing and generating departments, said Alderman Smith in reply to the mayor's argument that the power house was the most difficult to get, and having such a man thousands of mechanical men could be secured. He stated that in Mr. Ormsby's opinion the men who understand the entire workings of the utilities the better it will be for the city. He said if the new system tends to put in middlemen and put the utilities further away from the commissioners, Aldermen Calder and Livingstone were both agreed that in the past the utilities have been too close to the commissioners and that the car barn is a good instance of this fact where the superintendent took his instructions from one commissioner.

Although Alderman Livingstone does not approve of the present system he stated in committee yesterday that the city council decided that it was not to be done with the proposed change. Alderman Smith also opposed the plan of separating the pumping plant from the power plant. This is his opinion would be a very serious mistake and could not possibly be done in the best interests of the city. "I want a man in charge who knows the plant from top to bottom," was his emphatic statement. "The man who is not in the hands of men from whom money is able to go down to the power house and make couplings. I don't want a man with you there," continued Alderman Smith, "as the most successful men today are those who have worked their way up and know the value of the plant."

The mayor and Alderman Smith had then a long argument relative to the proposed change and other matters in connection with the power house. The mayor decided that before it could be put in a report, to council it would be necessary to have evidence from the heads of the various departments. Ormsby, Woodcock, Turner and Park, as well as the commissioners. At the meeting yesterday Mr. Boardman was questioned as to his knowledge of the subject. In dealing with the report prepared by the special power board of which he was a member, Mr. Boardman stated that he had not much to do with it, as Mr. Ormsby was the chairman of the committee, and did most of the work.

Will Visit Plant. After a discussion lasting about two hours, the special committee of council now considering the new policy recommended for the power house decided that a visit should be made to the plant by the members of the committee and that a statement made by the committee to the council should be the exact amount of machinery now at the plant which should be placed in the present account, how it should be taken care of and whether it should be written off in five or ten years; also how rates should be fixed for the power house and the electric light department.

Superintendent Parsons reiterated to the committee much of the information that he has already given to the commissioners, and the council in number of reports. He told the committee that he never refused to give the special power board any information they asked for, but he did object when they put it up to him to get a man who could successfully handle both the distributing and generating departments, said Alderman Smith in reply to the mayor's argument that the power house was the most difficult to get, and having such a man thousands of mechanical men could be secured. Two of Them Pick Fake Fight With Their Colleagues on Lusitania.

Crooks Assault Young Man and are Ordered to Keep to Their Cabins Until Vessel Lands at Fishguard—Incident Causes Much Excitement on Board.

London, Sept. 30.—The passengers of the Cunard liner Lusitania which left New York early last Tuesday morning arriving in London last night and all are taking of a sensational incident which occurred in the smoking room of the ship last Sunday night.

Three card sharps boarded the Lusitania from the boat-deck. They were supposed to be fellow travelers, while the third used the name of a famous Chicago manufacturer and posed as a wealthy man. The two fellow travelers pretended they did not know the wealthy Chicago man and picked a fake fight with him in the early part of the voyage.

At the quarantine, a steward recognized one of the sharps and warned the young New Yorker when the vessel was nearing Fishguard. The young man was refused to pay the $500 difference which he was supposed to owe the young man as a witness and then struck him a savage blow in the face. Several stewards rushed forward and provoked the young man from further attack. The crooks were then ordered to keep to their cabin until the vessel reached Fishguard.

Discussion of the Waterways legislation will be resumed in the legislature this afternoon by Mr. Hooper, of Okotoks. It will be followed by every other member of the opposition side who have not already spoken on the question. Their intention is to go on record in opposition to everything that is proposed by the government. They insist that the road should be built at once, they claim the right to enter the hills and valleys, although they have no practical plan to offer. What they will probably do is to oppose the legislation which they will press as being superior to that of Mr. Hooper. Failing in this they will urge that the government build the road. Meanwhile the legislative wheels are grinding and the people will have to pay for the delay. This, notwithstanding the opposition, is a serious delay in settling the Waterways problem.

THE MYSTERY OF THE CONSERVATIVE ATTITUDE UPON THE WATERWAYS QUESTION.

If the Conservative opposition has a policy upon the Great Waterways question it still remains to be developed. Certainly it was not made plain in the ponderous declamations of T. M. Tweedie, the member for Centre Calgary, nor in the ramblings of George Hoadley, member for Okotoks. If there was a suggestion at all from these two it was a double one; that the road should be built by the government as a government road, and that the Waterways contract should, at the same time, be put up at auction to the contractor making the highest bid. As they are the only two members of the opposition who have spoken so far, it may be taken for granted that there is still room for more suggestions or intimations or hints as to what should be the proper policy for the government, the same usually coming at the average rate of one hint per member of the opposition. Not, of course, that the opposition would feel bound in any way to abide by its own suggestions as a matter of policy; far be it from them to adopt a course so rash. The suggestions are merely proffered to the government to use if it sees fit, and are not represented by the opposition as being their policy. In other words, the suggestions are merely by way of advice tendered to the government. The advice is free, and probably worth it.

Mr. Tweedie's performance, as the leader of Waterways debate, was painful, to put it mildly. Having undoubtedly cherished the belief for many months that when the time arrived he said something about the Waterways that would shake the empire, he rummaged his mental scrap-bag to dig up words sufficiently lurid to give a startling appearance to an innocuous utterance, and, falling in this, substituted baseness profound. If a purpose could be woven into Mr. Tweedie's utterance it must have been to show that the construction of the road could not be entrusted to J. D. MacArthur, whom Mr. Bennett said two years and ten months ago was the reputable railway builder to whom the construction of the road should have been entrusted.

As for Mr. Hoadley's utterances, there was not even an attempt at concealment upon the part of the Okotoks member. Plainly, he was just talking; not talking with any intention of saying anything, but merely to use up the time of a legislature which is costing money to maintain in session. What Mr. Hoadley proposes to accomplish by reading reams of statistics and columns of newspaper clippings is not clear at this juncture, and admits of no explanation unless it be that the ex-member for Calgary, R. B. Bennett, by making the longest speech up to that time upon the Waterways, set a precedent three years ago which has been erected into a superstition in the Conservative ranks to the effect that long speeches should be made upon the Waterways whenever that question comes up, and Mr. Hoadley feels bound by the shibboleths of his party to emit a great many words, even if he has to read from the statutes to replenish the font of his vocabulary.

So far the legislature has before it the premier's statement that the government proposes, by the bill now before the house, to confirm Act 9, Edward VII, Chapters 16 and 46 inclusive, which means that he is to be placed legally in the position to make a contract with the MacArthur people for the construction of the railway from Edmonton to Fort McMurray, and it has before it the letter from J. D. MacArthur in which that gentleman offers to take over the Waterways company, satisfy everybody in connection with the original deal and build the road on the specifications of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia—which is the contract which the government proposes to make when the legislation now before the house is put through so that the contract can be made.

This position is so plain that no one could misunderstand it. So far the Conservatives have offered no alternative. If they have an attitude at all it is that the Conservatives by divine right should rule, and that any proposal which emanates from any other party, no matter whether elected by the people or not, is a usurpation of this divine right and must be opposed.

ABSOLUTE ROT UPON THE QUESTION OF INTEREST.

Occasionally the poor old Bulletin, in its yammerings, emits some most atrocious bombast; but none worse recently than when it says in its Waterways editorial today that "The Alberta government might well have taken the position that if, in accordance with the privy council, the money involved belonged to the bondholders and not to the province, the province was not required to pay interest on the money it had not received, did not own and could not use."

What an absolute absurdity! The money in question was borrowed by the Alberta and Great Waterways railway upon the province's guarantee. It did not belong to the province at any time. The province was merely endorser for a loan raised for the purpose of building a railway, the province guaranteeing the interest as well as the principal. The decision of the privy council did not alter this condition; it merely confirmed it by making it plain that the money must be used for the purpose for which it was raised, namely the construction of a railway from Edmonton to Fort McMurray. The Bulletin's allegation that the province, on account of this decision, could in some way ignore the fact that it had endorsed the bonds and could refuse to pay the interest is the most absolute rot of which senile publication has been guilty for a matter of about two years and ten months.

WHY NOT SPECIFY THE COMMISSIONER.

Looked at from the standpoint of an outsider, there is one question in connection with this proposal to amalgamate the power house and the electric distributing system under one superintendency which seems to get in the way of the proposal, and that is that if the city executive is following his supposed plan of administration the two departments are united now.

The supposition is that these superintendents are answerable to the commissioners. If so, why not specify the commissioner to whom they should be responsible? Each superintendent is doing a different work. Both are capable men in their own field. The work of each is the complement of the work of the other. The boss should be boss of both, and he should be the man at the top; a commissioner. Why seek to set one superintendent up in authority over the other when the man at the top could, if competent, exact from each the full performance of his duties and could harmonize the work of both?

THE CENTENARY OF PEACE.

The intention of the peace centenary is to celebrate the fact that there has been peace throughout a century that has passed, during the greater part of which the majority of the celebrants were not yet alive and could, therefore, not have been in any way responsible.

If the peace celebration had, as an object of its rejoicing, a pact between the two countries to refrain from war for the century that is to come, the occasion for the celebration would be much more tangible.

In the celebration which is being arranged, soldiers in both countries are to take prominent part. This is on a par with the position of America, who builds a peace palace out of the profits derived from the manufacture of armor plate.

In the celebration which should be arranged, soldiers would have no part because the practice of soldiering would have no reason to have a reason, and there would be no more occasion for men to be soldiers.

AUTOMATIC CANCELLATION OF MAGISTERIAL OFFICES.

If the legislature accepts a proposal which is now before it, all justices of the peace, police magistrates and other such officials will receive their appointments for two years only.

The change will have this to recommend it, that in an appointment of more than two years standing is much more likely to be an active factor than an appointee whose appointment is a matter of annual history. There are appointments on the rolls at the present time of men who are not even in the province. An automatic, periodical cancellation would clear the rolls of any such.

SUBMIT AN OFFER FOR PENITENTIARY SITE.

For the very practical reason that there has never yet been a definite proposal submitted to the Dominion government for the purchase of the penitentiary site, the removal of that institution is still as much a matter of the indefinite future as ever.

The Dominion government could not be expected to hand over the penitentiary site to the city without being recompensed therefor. Given a few hours to make the calculation, any competent real estate man in Edmonton could furnish the figure at which the city could afford to buy the site. The common-sense proceeding would be to submit an offer.

LABOR UNIONS FLYING DOWN GAGE TO EMPLOYERS

New Policy To Be Adopted Eliminating Ineffective Features and Amassing Big Fund.

London, Sept. 30.—The gage has been flying down by the labor unions in answer to the employers' proposal of a fund of $250,000,000 and the formation of the United Kingdom defense union, the object of which was stated to be the consolidation of the resources of the employers and the maintenance of their rights and freedom to deal with labor unions. A number of prominent labor leaders are planning a new policy which, eliminating the trade union features of the unions, will leave all the funds to supply the war chest. In other words, will convert the trade union into a fighting machine. The new policy may be extended so as to cover the production of the war chest by the workers themselves, the primary necessities of life, without losing sight of the necessity of using to the fullest extent their force for political and industrial action.

MAD MATTERS ARE GETTING EXCITED OVER ELECTIONS

Municipal Matters Engrossing Attention of Electors Two Months Ahead of Contests.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Sept. 30.—Although the municipal elections are still over two months away, interesting developments are already taking place, and there promises to be one of the most spirited contests for the seats of the mayor and seven retiring aldermen (half have yet taken place in the history of the municipality.

Mayor Nelson Spencer, having been elected to the provincial legislative assembly, will not stand again, but three candidates, all good men, have already been named, namely, Al. Herman M. A. Brown, who has been in the council for two years and is chairman of the finance committee, and a good friend of the franchise extension of the city, Al. Herman S. E. McCallan, who has been councillor for two years, and Arthur M. Grace, an engineer of wide experience, who has resided here for years, and who, like the others, has many friends.

Seven of the eight aldermen will be chosen again at the December election and in the meantime, with but year when the entire list of nominees was chosen by acclamation, there will be a contest in the election of the city, with every evidence of its being an active campaign from now to the time when the ballots are cast. Al. Herman Evans is the only sitting member who will not seek re-election. Al. Herman Pratt, Percy and Andy, already have their coats off and are at work, and among the new names mentioned for councilmanic honors are H. S. Potter, Dr. Boyd, Robert Collier, C. C. McGregor, Hamilton Morrow, J. Davies, I. McLean, and Dr. W. H. C. W. Richardson, with others yet to hear from. That the contest will be a lively one is now a foregone conclusion.

Introducing Our New Teas

We have just received a large shipment of India and Ceylon teas. These teas range from the delicate billow styles, suitable for those of refined palates or weak digestion to the stronger, full-bodied, heavy tasting teas which many prefer. These teas were all selected with a peculiar regard to the effect Edmonton city water would have upon them. As to the brewing even the finest tea can be spoiled by using a cold teapot or a metal teapot or by pouring on the water while it is not actually "in the boil," or when it has been boiled for some minutes, or by leaving the leaves in the infusion so as to destroy the finer flavors.

NO LACROSSE FOR CALGARY TILL '14

Denied Chance at Mann Cup This Year But Promised Game in Spring.

Calgary, Sept. 30.—Manager Anthony McKinley, of the Calgary Chimos, lacrosse champions of Alberta, yesterday received a wire from Joe Lally, Mann cup trustee, stating that after a thorough investigation the trustees had decided not to force Vancouver to defend the championship trophy this year, but that an amendment of the rules was being considered permitting games being played in the spring. Mr. Lally further stated that Vancouver had promised to give the Calgary team a game on May 24.

The Calgary teams hung up their sticks today but intend to start early next spring to prepare for the championship battle.

LAWN BOWLERS OF U.S. AND CANADA ORGANIZE

Propose to Place Sport Under Jurisdiction of One Big Association.

London, Ont., Sept. 30.—A meeting of bowlers representing all the associations in Canada and the United States was held here yesterday and mapped out a scheme to place bowling under one big association controlled by a board of directors, one which would be representative of all the districts now under the jurisdiction of the various associations.

The basis of the new organization will be outlined in a draft of rules governing lawn bowling in a uniform way which will promote broader lines and place the game in a measure on the same scheme as is now used in curling, dividing the whole world where the game abounds into districts which will send winners to a tournament at which the championship of international bowling will be decided.

EAST IS WINNER OF COUNTRY HIKE

60 Boys Go Over Course in Schools Sport Day Event.

By winning the cross country run of the junior high school division in yesterday's field sports events Edsel East demonstrated that he is a dis- tinguished runner of no mean ability. Three divisions of runners went over the course. The Senior high school, junior high school and senior public school. East limped in a half minute better than that of the winner of the senior division of the high school and a minute and five seconds better than that of the winner of the senior public school division. This is the fourth consecutive year that young East has been the public school division in which he has won.

Nearly 60 runners in all three divisions ran over the course which began at 127th street and St. Albert trail and ended at the high school.

The only stipulation regarding the course were the start and finish, the boys being left to their own ingenuity in the matter of route across the Hudson's Bay reserve. Some of the boys went straight through. One youth in the public school division in which there were 10 entries, came in at the finish plastered with mud and water from head to foot. He declared that he thought he did not win but he thought he had made pretty good time for a swimming race. The cross country runs were the only field sports run off yesterday. The jumping events came off Wednesday. These numbers are run off previous to the big meet on Friday in order to give plenty of time for the extensive program at the Exhibition grounds on that day.

Following are the winners of the 12 divisions of the cross country run: Senior high school, 12 entries, time 12 minutes and 30 seconds. First, Earl, second Rendell, third Smith and Thompson, fourth Robertson.
Junior high school, 12 entries, time 12 minutes. First, East, second Carpenter, third McPherson.
Senior public school, 40 entries, time 14 minutes and 5 seconds. First, McKim, second Swales, third Paul Smith, fourth Murray.

He hit a home run into the centre field bleachers. He also pulled down several difficult flies. Schaefer, New York's $14,000 recruit, twice, formerly of Winnipeg, was easy for the local batsmen.

Quit Sniffing, Stop Sneezing, Cure Your Cold Now!

Thousands of Cases Prove the Quickest Cure is Catarrhone

When germs attack the lining of the nose, make you sneeze and gag—when later on they infect the bronchial tubes—how can you follow them with a cough attack?

You can't do it—bitter, all—Cough syrups go to the stomach—that's why they fail. But Catarrhone goes everywhere—right into the nose—kills them—beats the germs—cures the inflammation—makes Catarrh disappear. Nothing I have ever used, gives the warm, soothing sensation of Catarrhone, writes Isabel Fry, of Regina Falls, Ont. "I was in a friendly way with catarrh of the nose and throat—had droppings, hard breathing, bad breath and indigestion. Catarrhone relieved at once and cured me thoroughly. It is invaluable in colds, nose throat and bronchial trouble." Not difficult for Catarrhone to cure, because it contains the essence of pine balsam and other antiseptics that simply neutralize the catarrh. Large size costs $1.00, smaller size, 50c, and 25c, all druggists and grocers, or The Catarrhone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Edmonton Sports Will See Good Wrestling Bout If This Match Is Staged

Joe Harris has accepted Forbes' challenge to wrestle for a side bet of $100, and all that remains now to enable the Edmonton wrestling fans to see a fast bout is the small matter of finding someone who will stage the bout. These two wrestlers are boys with good reputations and the match should draw well. Forbes agrees to throw Harris twice in one hour.

A. WILLIAMSON TAYLOR PROTESTS CLEARWATER.

Defeated Candidate Files Writ in Supreme Court Against Return of McKenney.

A. Williamson Taylor, the defeated candidate in the recent Clearwater election, has filed a writ in the Supreme Court, contesting the election of H. W. McKenney, of that riding on the grounds that it is void and that McKenney has no right to sit in the legislature. The grounds for contesting the validity of the election are, according to information contained in the writ, are that H. W. McKenney was not in full possession of his mind at the time of the election, and in connection with the election directly or indirectly through his agents.

The other claim is that the information that McKenney was not in full possession of his mind at the time of the election was not given to the appellant in the notice of appeal, and that the returning officer, John McKernan, did not act according to instructions in the return. McKernan and Taylor are acting for the appellant.

A $4.00 DICTIONARY for EVERYBODY

PRESENTATION

Just think what the opportunity to possess the latest, most up-to-date Dictionary of the English Language means to you, then read below how you may obtain one or more of these valuable books. We have just made an arrangement with the publishers of Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary, whereby we are able to offer the readers of The Capital the unparalleled opportunity of getting this invaluable reference work on practically their own terms.

Everybody needs a dictionary. You need one, your wife or your husband needs one, and most of all, your children need one. A Dictionary is, in fact, more essential than any other book required in this course. Partial contents of Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary

Based upon Noah Webster's Dictionary, revised and brought UP TO DATE in accordance with the most eminent English and American authorities on spelling, pronunciation and definition, and especially designed to meet the popular demand for a CONVENIENT, complete and RELIABLE Dictionary.

It contains all the words of the English language that are not peculiarly appropriate to a Dictionary of technical terms; it gives the spelling and pronunciation of Plurals, and indicates the use of capital and small letters in writing every word in the vocabulary; it gives the Past Tense and the Particles of all verbs not regularly formed by the addition of -d, -ed, and -ing; the Pronunciation of each word is plainly indicated by phonetic spelling; the Definitions, comprehensive, yet concise, are accurate and reliable.

Preceding the Dictionary proper will be found a treatise on ABBREVIATIONS of the Parts of Speech and their grammatical signification. Also a discourse on the Origin, Composition and Derivation of the English Language.

The ANALYSIS of the "Principles of Grammar" will fill a long-felt want in promoting the correctness of speech, both spoken and written.

Under the head of "SIMPLIFIED SPELLING" will be found the rules as adopted by the SIMPLIFIED SPELLING BOARD, and giving a complete list of 300 words spelled in two ways, of which the Board says, "Choose the simpler spelling."

Finally is given a complete KEY TO PRONUNCIATION.

Surprising results are obtained in looking up the Spelling, Pronunciation and Definition of the sum had never been definitely set to be written off.

ALDERMEN DISCUSS CHANGE OF MANAGEMENT

Alderman Livingstone stated that it was the duty of the committee to get this detailed information about the plant. The council, he continued, is responsible to the citizens and when asked about this $475,000, which must be written off, they must have some figures to show the ratepayers why such a course is necessary.

Alderman Smith, who is chairman of the committee, said that there is no living man who can go down to the power house and say just what everything cost. He did think, however, that it would be quite possible to have each unit or individual machine set down on the books at a fixed valuation. The same would apply to the buildings, as these could be valued at their approximate value.

Parsons Gives History of Plant.

Superintendent Parsons gave in brief a history of the plant since he took it over in May, 1912, showing the improvement that has taken place and the saving that has been effected. He also stated that he was the first man to bring up this question of obsolescence, and had he not done so it is quite possible that there would have been nothing done as yet to provide for the large over-capitalization of the station. He might have gone on reducing power and legal rates without making such provision. As a result of his economy of operation and recommendations in this regard, he showed that already the sum of $117,000 has been provided for five obsolete plant. When he considered the condition of the plant and the way the funds which put it there have been lumped, Alderman Livingstone stated that Mr. Parsons had his sympathy in trying to get at the original cost and the present value of every piece of the plant.

A long time was taken up by the committee in discussing the method of measuring power to the street railway department. Alderman Calder took the ground that only direct current should be sold to that department, the same as is done in Calgary.

Railway Department the Goat.

Alderman Livingstone said that the street railway department has been made the goat in the past by bearing costs which it should never have been charged with. He insisted that the street railway should only pay for the current it consumes.

Alderman Smith recognized the complex situation, and was not agreed that the street railway was being used unjustly. He brought out the fact that both alternating and direct current is used by the street railway department, and that, therefore, there would still be an injustice if only direct current is charged to this department.

Superintendent Woodroffe was called in to give some further information along this line. He stated that he preferred to be charged for all direct current, even if an additional service charge is made by the power house. The benefit of this would be that he could always tell just what his monthly operating cost per car mile is, and that it would also be more uniform. At present the amount of these two currents supplied varies, and this naturally varies his power bill, as there is a loss of about 35 per cent. in converting the alternating current into direct current, the latter being the only kind of power that can be used on the cars.

Woodroffe to Make Recommendations.

After hearing further particulars from the superintendent of the street railway, the committee asked him to submit to the chairman a statement in writing showing just what changes he would recommend in regard to the present methods and his reasons for making such recommendations.

The city auditor was the only other city employee heard this morning by the committee. He was notified of the facts and figures as already mentioned which the committee will expect him to get into shape.

The committee adjourned to meet again on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Superintendent Ormsby will be heard, and the question of a change in management will be more directly considered by the committee. Only a progress report will be presented to the council tonight. In the meantime the members of the committee will visit the power house, as neither Alderman Calder nor Livingstone has been down since the present superintendent took charge.

The mayor attended the meeting for a few minutes prior to adjournment. He told the members of the committee that the information they had asked the auditor for was being gathered by Secretary English and the city treasurer. Alderman Livingstone insisted that the auditor should get the information notwithstanding this fact.

GERMAN AVIATOR IN TROUBLE.

Bologne Sur Mer, France, Sept. 30.—A biplane, piloted by a German officer, landed yesterday at Neufchateau near here. The aviator left Cologne on a flight to England, but the heavy fog which prevailed forced him to descend. As he has no papers in his possession except a route map, he will be detained until a satisfactory explanation is given regarding his flight over French territory and his landing on French soil.

REVISION COURT DECIDES APPEALS

Commissioners Sit as Court on Appeals Against Local Improvement Assessments.

The commissioners sat as a court of revision on the assessment for local improvements for the year 1913 in the council chamber at 1 P. M. today this morning. Several appeals were heard and a recommendation passed on the suggestion of the city assessor, that in future notices be forwarded to all property owners affected. One of the appeals heard was held over until October 15th, that the court might have time to view the property in question. All other appeals were referred to the assessor, who is to furnish the property owners with full details of the cost and prove to them that the rates charged are correct.

A delegation of residents from River street objected to the assessment between Rolland and Cameron streets for boulevarding. The residents living on the west side of the street stated that the benefit was all in favor of the east side residents and that therefore the rates were not levied equitably. This is the case which has been held over until October 15.

W. H. Taylor appeared before the court to protest against his assessment for property on Fifth street west from Whyte avenue to the high level bridge. He contended that the cost had been about three times the amount levied on Whyte avenue for similar paving. The assessor was instructed to show Mr. Taylor the figures representing the whole cost of the paving, and if there is then anything that he considers unjust he will have opportunity then to bring further objections to the court.

Mr. Cox and others appeared against an assessment for grading on Tenth avenue north from Fifth to Sixth streets east. In this case also the assessor was asked to furnish the details of cost to the property owners.

An appeal was entered against the original cost and operating in connection with the pumping plant used in the Walters Park sewer. The contention was that an original agreement had been entered into between the original owners of the property and the city for a certain fixed rate. The present owners contend that they were not aware of this agreement, which makes them responsible for not only the operating charges in connection with the sewer, but also for the original cost of the work. The court decided that since the city was living up to its part of the agreement, the property owners should sustain their end and bear the costs as originally agreed upon. The assessor was asked to get the details in connection with the deal for the information of those affected.

City Assessor Walker submitted a letter to the court in which he recommended that the system in vogue prior to 1910 regarding individual notices of assessment should be reverted to. Since that time by the amendment, the only notice of assessment required is through newspaper advertisements. The assessor pointed out that this method is unjust to the property owners as they often are not aware of the assessment levied and as a result errors creep in which under the old system could easily have been rectified. The court agreed with the assessor that a written notice should be mailed to each property owner affected, on which would be stated the total amount for which he is assessed and the amount which will be levied yearly in his taxes, and instructed him to use it hereafter.

SHIPS PRISONERS IN ARCTIC ICE

One Lost Near Point Barrow—Others Face Serious Situation.

Nome, Sept. 30.—The schooner Hellie B., which arrived here Friday, confirmed the report of the loss of the trading schooner Transit Dec near Point Barrow and brought additional news of other vessels imprisoned in the Arctic.

The Hellie B. reported that the schooner Mary Sachs and Alaska of the Stefansson expedition, were trying to force their way northward through the ice to open water in the Arctic and that the power boat Polar Bear with its party of eastern scientists and big game hunters and the schooner Sirius and North Star were sheltered in the mouth of a river east of Flaxman Island, awaiting for lead to open in the ice. There is no fear for the safety of Captain Louis Lane's party on the schooner Polar Bear. Should the Polar Bear be unable to get free from the ice Captain Lane could guide the entire party overland to Kotzebue Sound, having made the trip many times by dog team.

The Hellie B. had no word of the position of the steam whaler Belvidere, which is carrying supplies for the Stefansson expedition.

Some things come to pass that ought to go the other way.

HER LITTLE GIRL WAS SO BAD WITH DIARRHOEA

She Passed Nothing But a Thickish Blood.

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

Cured Her In Four or Five Days.

Mrs. WILLETT ELLIS, London, Ont., writes: "My little girl had Diarrhoea so bad that nothing would stop it, in fact she got so bad she passed nothing but a thickish blood. I even started raspberry leaves, but all to no purpose, until a neighbor told me to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which I did, and with such good results that after four or five days she was quite normal again. I would not like to be without it. I used it when we were in Saskatchewan, so, we could not get on without it on that trip."

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY has a world wide reputation for the cure of all Summer and Bowel Complaints. It has been on the market for over 50 years and has never been experiment with new and untried remedies when you purchase it. Insist on getting "Dr. Fowler's." It is manufactured by The T. Millars Co., Limited Toronto, Ont. Price, 35c.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE TO BE TRIED IN ITALY
 King Manuel Will Sign Decree Today Dissolving Chamber of Deputies.

Rome, Sept. 30.—Premier Giolitti is expected to visit King Victor Emmanuel today at the royal hunting lodge at San Ivo, and submit for the king's signature a decree dissolving the chamber of deputies and fixing a general election for the end of October. The decree probably will be published Tuesday and will be accompanied by a statement from the cabinet announcing the program.

The chief features of the platform for the war with Turkey and the occupation of Libya by Italy. It also will deal with the broad reform the government has adopted, especially the giving of practically universal suffrage, which will be experimented with for the first time in the approaching elections. The elections this year will number 2,625,145, as against 2,347,722 in the last election.

Most of those who will be permitted to vote for the first time are literates who have served in the army or those who have passed the age of 30.

TRY SEED PRODUCTION INSIDE ARCTIC CIRCLE

If Successful Would Give Early Producing Vegetables for Canada.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Information brought to Ottawa by Mr. Henry A. Conroy, inspector of the Indian agencies in the north regarding the splendid crops of vegetables grown within the Arctic circle, has led to a decision by the Ontario Vegetable Growers' association to make a trial of seed production in that region.

The advantage accruing from seed grown in such latitudes is that the earlier north it is raised the earlier crops produce from it when planted in warmer climates. W. J. Kerr, secretary of the O.V.G.A., had an interview with Dr. Conroy yesterday in which conditions in the far north were talked over. The result was the convincing of Mr. Kerr that the seed growing attempt is worth trying. The experiment will doubtless be watched with great interest by vegetable men throughout the country.
